Johnstown, Pa., May 2.—Three men were killed at 3:30 A. M. today when engine No. 7156 on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad blew up at Fairhope, Pa. The locomotive was blown to atoms. The dead are Timothy Conway, engineer, Cumberland, Md.; O. E. Newcomer, fireman, Cumberland, Md., and H. E. Parker, brakeman, Ursina, Pa. Newcomer's body was found in a coal car five cars in the rear while that of Parker was blown over an embankment and was not found until daylight this morning. The cause of the explosion is not known. Ten cars were wrecked and the track torn up for some distance, making it impossible to resume traffic until noon today.

SENATE REPUBLICANS AGREE UPON PLAN FOR SOLDIERS' BONUS, GIVEN TO HARDING

Washington, D. C., May 2.—Senate Republicans today agreed on a Senate Bonus Bill. They will submit the plan to President Harding late today. As tentatively formed the plan is a modification of the bill passed by the House. It provides for paying the bonus by means of twenty year certificates which are to have a loan value of fifty per cent of the face value immediately. In three years this value will increase to eighty per cent. In six years certificates are to increase twenty five per cent in value and at that time the loan value will be seventy-five per cent of the new face value. At the end of twenty years the holder of a certificate can take the money due to him either in cash or in annuities. The bill includes the vocational training and home and farm aid options of the bonus bill. It eliminates the reclamation plan.

BATHING POOL KNOT TYING PREACHER IS STILL IN HOT WATER

Lawton, Oklahoma, May 2.—Charges and counter-charges were hurled here today when County Attorney Fletcher and a court of inquiry began investigation of the Presbyterian church bathing suit wedding feud raging around the Rev. T. J. Irwin. Opponents of Irwin who performed the ceremony declared the kidnapping and attack on Irwin was framed so he could secure sympathy before the hearing to be held on May 9th. Irwin retelling his story of how he lay bound in the mud after being kidnapped by three men threatened to take his case before the General Assembly, the highest council in the church.

Alter, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor of Pennsylvania, called at the White House today and spent a few minutes in conference with the President. Views of beauty spots in booklet and Reserve Keeper Rearick would like to secure some views of Kennedy Park for use therein. There are no doubt many such about Clearfield and Mr. Rearick would like to borrow several long enough to have a plate made, from them, after which they will be returned to the owner unharmed.

If you have any pictures taken in or about Kennedy Park leave them at the Progress today or tomorrow and we will see that Mr. Rearick gets them.

MYSTERY MAN IN STUDENT MURDER TRIAL SUICIDES

New York, May 2.—Charles Schloss, "mystery man" in the murder of Elmer C. Drewes, Dartmouth College Freshman, who was slain nearly two years ago, died Saturday night by his own hand.

Leaving behind no explanation of his act and giving no warning before hand, young Schloss, who was 21; trained a vial of carbolic acid in the home of his chum, David R. Este, and lied on the way to a hospital. He was a nephew of Daniel Guggenheim the banker.

The young man's tragic end recalled the mysterious slaying of his college chum, Drewes, which occurred in a lonely road near Philadelphia while Drewes was motoring back to college from Atlantic City. It developed that the slain youth had made a flying visit to New York where he collected $100 from Schloss Schloss offered to aid the authorities and established a satisfactory alibi later W. P. Brines was accused of the crime, tried and acquitted.

The murder of young Drewes has been relegated to the list of "unsolved mysteries."

Brines was recently killed in an automobile accident in California.

The Drewes case excited a great deal of interest locally from the fact that Brines was located in Clearfield for several weeks previous to the murder of Drewes and purchased the car in which Drewes' dead body was found from Roy Dougherty, of Turwensville.

UNDERWORLD DUEL CAUSES TWO DEATHS

Philadelphia, Pa., May 2.—Two men shot each other to death in a strange underworld duel here today. Before dying in a local hospital one of the principals told the police "he stole my girl." A third man was shot by a patrolman as he fled over rooftops and two women were arrested when they were found crouching on one of the upper floors of the house where the duel took place. The police here are looking for six men and a woman who escaped in two touring cars which witnesses say was parked in front of the house just before the shooting. The men shot to death were John Baker, alias Ed (Buck) Bailey, and Harry Stinger.

MUST DRINK YOUR LIQUOR BEFORE COMING TO PENNA.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 2.—No person moving into Pennsylvania may legally bring his personal stock of liquor with him, Attorney General George E. Alter ruled in an opinion addressed to John T. Davis, State Prohibition Director, today. Alter declared that the Reed prohibition law, working in conjunction with state laws, made it illegal to bring liquor into the state for beverage purposes.

Gertrude Hanna, above, was found dead in a vacant parsonage at Hoopston, Ill. John C. Wyman, farmer, told authorities investigating the mystery of her death that he had been the girl's sweetheart. She was about to become a mother.

SLICK FORGER GETS MONEY AT DUBOIS

DuBois was visited by another of those person check forgers on Saturday night and the party succeeded in passing a number of "phony" pay slips. The fact that the forged checks were in circulation was not discovered until Monday morning when the merchants went to the bank to make deposits. Then they started to come in and kept appearing during the day.

It is stated that from ten to fifteen worthless checks were passed during the Saturday night rush. All of the checks were made out to Charles Patton and signed E. S. Minns. The amount ranged from ten to eighteen dollars and in most instances the passer of the checks made a small purchase receiving good money in exchange.

The checks were not a smooth piece of work and were at once detected when presented to the banks for deposit. Local officers were at once notified of the checks and an investigation started. Owing to the number of stores visited it was not difficult to secure a fairly good description of the man. He was apparently a stranger in the city and it is probable that he kept on traveling the following day, possibly the same night.

The swindler used counter checks in all instances and everyone of them was numbered 47.

The following description of the man was furnished by Officer Jeffrey: Age 35, weighs about 185, smooth face, light complexion, wore blue suit, American. At some of the places he wore a cap, at others, a hat.

TALK LOCAL ISSUES

About 80 members and guests of the Clearfield Commercial Club ate one of Jordan's good dinners last evening and heard railroad matters discussed by Mr. Robert C. Wright of Philadelphia, General Traffic Manager of the Pennsylvania System.

Mr. Wright's talk was most instructive and he gave his listeners some new thoughts on the railroad situation and presented the subject from a different angle than the average person views it.

Mr. Wright in his capacity handles 1-9 of the freight business of the United States and 1-6 of the passenger business and the Club was fortunate in having an opportunity to hear a man of his caliber. After his talk he invited questions from the members and this brought forth additional information.

Mr. J. K. Johnson, of Tyrone, Division Superintendent and Mr. M. L. MacQuown of Altoona, Division Freight Agent, also spoke very interestingly.

Miss Celeste Bogner accompanied by Miss Margaret Shillenn favored the Club with three delightful musical solos and the Keystone Quartette accompanied by Miss Dorothy Woodward, entertained in their usual excellent fashion.

The Club found time to transact some business, among which was the increase of the membership from its former limit of 75 to a limit of 100 and immediately added eleven new members from their waiting list as follows: J. Woodward Olcott, Reuben F. Neveling, R. R. Silverman, Dr. G. B. Yoaney, W. C. Seifert, Lawrence E. Sault, Ernest L. Peterson, Don Gingery, Ralph Jordan, Walter "Legal, H. Clair Fleming.

Mr. F. L. Ward, who was a former member has returned to the city and the Club accepted him with open arms and reinstated Mr. Ward to his former membership.

A motion was carried unanimously to endorse the Salvation Army drive for funds.

It was also unanimously voted to accept an invitation from the Rotary Club for a joint meeting at an early date to hear Hon. Edward Rogers, Director of Training Schools for Community Service.

A communication from the Osceola Merchants' Association regarding closing one afternoon each week during the Summer months was referred to a committee composed of Julian Chase, Paul Flaharty and Wm. Leitzinger, with power to act.

The balloting for nomination of Directors went off quietly with no bloodshed. The sixteen names receiving the highest votes and thereby becoming nominees for election at the next meeting May 15, are as follows:

Wm. Bigler, C. F. Bloom, J. M. Chase, Harry Evans, P. T. Flaharty, I. P. Franz, E. T. Kelley, J. M. Mitchell, Jr., A. M. Pearce, P. B. Reed, W. P. Sheeder, W. W. Smith, G. A. Stewart, Dr. L. F. Stewart, B. L. Wallace, S. L. Warner.

The sepiak at the next meeting of the Club on May 15th, will be Mr. Gregory C. Kelly, of Philadelphia, General Manager of the Pennsylvania Compensation Rating and Inspection Bureau and President Warner states that Mr. Kelly is the highest authority in the State of Pennsylvania in his particular line.

After the meeting the Traffic Committee or the Club met with the Pennsylvania officials with reference to local traffic matters and at ten o'clock Mr. Wright and his party left by special train.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of Borough Council attracted an extra large number of taxpayers the Council chamber for the purpose of registering kicks or asking that necessary improvements be made in their sections of town.

Borough Solicitor Urey reported collections of $145.85 and presented check for amount.

Too Much Dust on Front Street
A delegation consisting of A. Wright Bigler, J. Fred Weaver and R. C. Wright were present and complained about the dust clouds on Front street with every passing vehicle. The Highway Department was asked to give them relief by a plentiful supply of oil.

Live of West Front Street Up Again
W. A. Hagerty, Esq., was present as the representative of Hiram Schiefer and presented a map of West Front street showing the lines of same and the encroachments of the properties on both sides of the street. He asked that the difficulty be settled by deciding upon a fifty foot street. Messrs J. E. Gearhart, Irvin Rhinehart and Ed Jury property owners on the west side of the street, were also present to insist upon the street being maintained as a 60-foot street as the original plan provided. This dispute has been pending for more than a year, an injunction having been secured by Council to prevent Mr. Schiefer from completing a building which projected out onto the street line some eleven feet. After some discussion the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That inasmuch as the original plan of the Bigler Addition to West Clearfield borough shows West Front street to be 60 feet in width from Nichols street south to Clearfield street and said street always having been opened to that width, the Council goes upon record herewith as desiring to have this street maintained at 60 feet in width between these points, as originally planned, and asked that the injunction proceedings now pending between the borough and the trespassing property owner be carried through and the matter finally determined by the Court.

Want Retaining Wall Built
F. B. Reed and W. A. Wallace representing the Clearfield Cemetery Company, were present and asked Council to join and bear half the expense of putting a retaining wall up Cemetery Hill from East Market street, stating that such a wall would prevent a great deal of gravel and dirt washing down the hill onto the streets and into the borough sewers after every heavy rain. After considerable discussion a committee consisting of Messrs Gulich, Bloom and Adams was named to meet the Cemetery Co., representatives regarding a plan and the cost of such improvement and report back to Council.

Other Requests Made
Warren Flegal asked again that surface water in the alley along side his property on Dorey street be taken care of, while Joseph Daugherty entered complaint regarding the sewer manhole in front of his property on Pine street. Both complaints were referred to Highway Department for solution.

To Attend Borough Convention

For Street Work
Chairman Gilliland of the Highway Department recommended the purchase of a truck for street work and the recommendation was unanimously adopted the Secretary being directed to advertise for bids for suitable truck.

Recommended Fire Apparatus
Chairman Ellis of the Public Property Committee presented the recommendation of his committee for either a 400 or 600 gallon triple combination motor driven pumper apparatus for the Elk Hose Company.

The recommendation caused a great deal of discussion and it was finally decided to ask for bids for some needed fire apparatus and the Secretary was directed to prepare an advertisement asking for bids on a combination chemical and hose wagon and a triple combination motor driven pumper.

EVERY CLUE FAILS
IN HOOPESTON CASE

Danville, Ill., May 2.—The only clue which officials believed would lead to the solution of the mysterious murder of Gertrude Hanna failed today. An itinerant doctor had told sheriff Charles Knox that six weeks ago he was approached by a man representing himself as John Hanna who requested him to perform an illegal operation on his daughter Gertrude. The doctor was brought face to face with Hanna, father of the murdered girl, and John Wyman, her confessed betrayer here today. He said neither Hanna nor Wyman made the proposal.

Charles M. Powell, who, detectives allege, has confessed to the slaying of John T. Brunen, circusman at Riverside, N.

State College Musical Club Gives Concert

The Music Section of the State College Woman's Club gave a splendid program to the members and guests of the Clearfield Musical Club in the College of Music auditorium last evening. This concert was in exchange for the one members of the Clearfield Musical Club gave at State College in February.

Mrs. H. H. Havner, president, was leader of the ten piece orchestra and pianist. The soloists, all of whom performed with the entire orchestra accompanying were: Mrs. Fritz Holben, Mrs. John Taylor, formerly of Clearfield, and Mr. Ben Witkoff.

The whole program was characterized by the difficulty of the numbers played, which did not, however, reduce the finish and ease of the performances. Such numbers as Mozart's Overture to "The Marriage of Figaro" and the First Movement of Beethoven's Fourth Symphony, when so well done, are, in themselves, high compliments to the musicians.

DUBOIS MILK MEN CUT PRICE TO TEN CENTS PER QUART

Milk at 10 cents a quart is made available for the consumers of this city, effective today, by the decision of the executive committee of the DuBois Dailyman's Cooperative Association reached late Saturday night. The price is the lowest that has existed in this city since the beginning of the war, eight years ago.

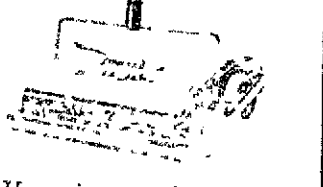

Announcement of the reduction of the milk price to 10 cents a quart is taken as one of the surest signs of the continued reduction of the cost of living as the selling price is reckoned on a scientific basis that has to do with production costs upon scores of farms in this community. These costs are closely tabulated and figured and the prices set accordingly, so that the producers can still work on a small margin of profit at the new selling price.

Hope For Wider Distribution. For two years the price of milk has been slowly declining—the all-winter price having been 12 cents. At that figure milk from producing herds in all directions from this city was brought here and sold under cost and distributing conditions that enabled the DuBois Cooperative Dailyman's Association to show a surplus when the situation was canvassed at the meeting of the executive committee of the association on game played on the Reedsville grounds Saturday afternoon last. The score was 9 to 6 and marked the first defeat chalked up against the "yarn busters."

Mr. and Mrs. John Gregory and family spent the week end with friends in Clearfield.

Circus Will Be Here On Thursday, May 4th, Sure

There is something about the knowledge that a circus is coming that gives everybody, be it man, woman or child, a "thrill" of a sort not produced by anything else. Lovers of ordinary amusements who accept the coming and going of attractions as a matter of routine, experience a "different" glow when they see the billboards, the pictures and newspaper advertisements.

Particularly is this true when the circus is one of the magnitude of the Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace circus. The very name is synonymous with massedon tated delight. It "grabs" and when the big parade sweeps down the streets, there is no forgetting it. It's just as characteristically American as the great Yankee game of baseball. Red-blooded—both of them. That is why, when the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus comes to Clearfield, Thursday May 4th, for two performances, it is safe to say that a majority of the citizens will "answer the call". Those who know about the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus do not need to be told. To those who do not, well it's the Hagenbeck-Wallace show which, in the amusement world, has a meaning equal to that of Edison in the realm of invention.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Postmaster General Work has announced that 600 ex-service men have been commissioned as postmasters since President Harding issued his executive order May 10, 1921. This order authorizes the Civil Service Commission and postal authorities to give a 5 per cent preference to ex-service men taking examinations for the eligible list of appointments as postmasters. This number is considered rather remarkable by the Postoffice Department inasmuch as none of them had any previous post office experience and a large number of them had no business experience whatever.

According to "Battling Bob" La-follette on the floor of the U. S. Senate the other day, a friend of Attorney General Daugherty, who had first hand knowledge of administrative action before same was made known officially tipped off Wall street speculators that the Government had leased the Wyoming naval oil reserve to a private oil company, allowing these speculators to clean up $30,000,000 in three days time.

In 1919 the Government spent nine teen billions. In 1920 it spent seven and one-half billions. In 1921 the bill was six and one half billions. In 1922 we shall spend about four and a half billions. The budget of 1923, eliminating post office costs, which come back largely in receipts, will be a trifle over three billions.

There are thirteen million grown-up unmarried men in the good old U. S. A. There are also eight and one-half million unattached females. Why don't they get together?

Reports for March filed by 123 of the 201 Class 1 railroads with the Interstate Commerce Commission show that their net operating income in that month was $61,678,000, compared with $18,563,800 for the same railroads in March, 1921. In order to realize a return of 8 per cent on the tentative valuation of the 201 railroads, the remaining 78 Class 1 railroads must bring the net operating income on the 201 to $85,895,700. The Class 1 roads have an approximate mileage of 150,000.

The Association of Railway Executives has compiled figures showing in detail the financial operating conditions reported by the 123 railroads. Tentative reports for the 123 give the operating revenues at $343,667,000 an increase of 5.8 per cent more than those for the same roads in March, 1921, while their operating expenses amounted to $261,466,500, a decrease of 8.9 per cent, compared with March last year.

Sixty-eight roads in the Eastern district had operating revenues totaling $214,523,000 an increase of 10 1/2 per cent more than March 1921. Their operating expenses were $160,451,900 or 7 per cent under those for March last year. The net operating income for the 68 roads, which so far have reported, amounted to $42,512,200, compared with $10,971,222 in March 1921.

WAS REAL WARFARE HARDING OFFERS TO DOWN IN WEST VA. SOLVE COAL PROBLEM

Charlestown, W. Va., May 2.—A veritable picture of the battle of "Bar Mountain" between coal miners and deputies in the march on Logan County last summer was created today by W. B. LePage, mine superintendent, testifying for the state in the treason trials here. Airplanes, machine guns and gas bombs were used. LePage described how he led women and children from the battle area while airplanes circled overhead dropping gas bombs. One bomb dropped near him, he said but none of his party suffered injury. The defense then took up the financing of the miners' march. Otis Bickens, Secretary of local No. 44918 of the United Mine Workers, identified an order for $1695 supposed to have been used for food.

Washington D. C., May 2.—President Harding believes he has found a solution of the trouble in the coal industry. The President has outlined his plan to several members of Congress. It is based it was learned, on the fundamental principle that the coal industry must be made less seasonal. Production must go ahead at a steady rate throughout the year. Distribution from the mines must also be kept at an even flow. To accomplish this, the Government must direct that the surplus coal must be stored in the centers of population to await the demands of winter.

PLOT TO SMUGGLE CHINESE LOCATED

Tampa, Florida, May 2.—A plot to smuggle Chinese into the country was broken up here today with the arrest of constable Morris McFall. Federal officers believe other arrests are imminent. McFall is charged with conspiring to smuggle aliens.

Sarcastic Summing Up.
A client of Sydney Bartlett's wanted William M. Everts retained as associate. Bartlett assented, but somewhat ungraciously. The client, after the argument of the case, asked Bartlett how Everts spoke. "Oh, very pleasantly," said Bartlett. "There was a vein of ratiocination running through all that verbiage—attenuated at times, it is true, but never wholly lost."

The First and Seventh Day.
The fourth commandment of the Jewish law distinctly commands that the seventh day of the week shall be a day of rest, on which no work of any kind shall be done. The early Christians observed the seventh day for a long time, because it was the law of the land. The fact that Jesus arose from the dead on the first day of the week led them to meet again on that day, and it gradually became a custom for them to meet on the first day of the week for Christian Fellowship.

A Little Imitator.
A tiny girl of five taken to a candle show was much impressed with the ventriloquist. That evening while saying her prayers she asked God to look after her brothers and sisters and to make her a good girl—then after a brief pause she was heard to say, sotto voce: "All right!"

Chained Cyclist

Rest the Eyes.
It's a funny thing, but people never give their eyes a thought unless they have trouble with them. A person couldn't run or walk all day long without giving his legs a rest. A woman couldn't sew all day long without stopping for a few moments to rest her hands. And still people will work their eyes all day without closing them for an instant.

Ancient Shaving Implement.
According to Herodotus, the Egyptians shaved continually and only let the hair and beard grow when they were in mourning. The barber of the ancient Egyptians was known as the hui. He employed various instruments. A razor sometimes in the shape of a small, short handle with a recurved blade and other instruments shaped like a knife were most generally used.

True Sayings.
"The love that causes two hearts to beat as one does not guarantee a continuous performance," wrote the late Edgar Saltus. He also made this true observation: "Life is packed with delights—which the majority of us never enjoy. The world is full of charming people—whom few of us ever meet."

The Rattlesnake.
One of Bosworth's young sprouts was coming home about 12 o'clock the other night on the south road, and just as he got even with the graveyard the engine went dead. But he said he got so scared when he saw where he was that he shook the car so badly that the durned old flyver thought the motor was running and came clear to town before it discovered his mistake.—Science and Invention.

WHY SOUSA JOINED LEGION

The Noted Bandmaster Says He Thinks It Is a Rattling Good Organization.

"I joined the Legion because I had a right to, being in the navy, and I did so because I think it is a rattling good organization," says John Phillip Sousa, bandmaster extraordinary and leader of the mammoth naval band at the Great Lakes, a naval training station during the war.

The Legion and its activities are being spread into all parts of the world by the band leader's men. Thirty-two of the master musicians who make up the Sousa organization are ex-service men, and nearly all are affiliated with the Legion. They come from every part of the country and saw service in every branch of this country's military organization during the war.

When Sousa took hold of the Great Lakes band it was a group of sailors, whose right to play under him could have come only with their enlisting with the crowd that "took 'em over." What he did with this group of musical talent became known the country over. What they learned under Sousa couldn't have been learned anywhere else, and the finer points of the musician's art are being shown to the hundreds of Legion posts whose personnel is made up of one or more of the gobs who made up the largest service band of the many brought into being during the war.

NAME DESTROYER FOR FRUIT

Highest Honors Paid One of Pershing's Men Who Went to Death In War.

It is seldom that one of Uncle Sam's sea fighters is named for an enlisted man of the navy or marine corps. This has been done in the case of Corp. John Pruitt, one of Pershing's hundreds of heroes, who died from wounds while fighting Germans. Honors had been heaped on Corporal Pruitt before he met death, but the naming of a "destroyer for him" didn't take place until long afterward.

Mr. and Mrs. George Pruitt of Phoenix, Ariz., have just received from the Italian government a citation and the Italian war cross. Croce di Guerra, in recognition of their son's valor nearly four years ago. The citation told of young Pruitt's single-handed battle against two machine gun crews, capturing both, killing two of the enemy and taking 40 prisoners.

Under age and therefore ineligible for the first draft, Pruitt volunteered for service with the marines less than three weeks after war was declared. He was in France in January, 1918, and served as a "Devil Dog" until his death. His body was brought back to this country and buried with all the honors that are a hero's in the National cemetery at Arlington.

LEGION HAS CEMETERY PLOT

Racine (Wis.) Organization Will See That No Ex-Service Man Sleeps in Potter's Field.

The American Legion at Racine, Wis., has taken over a part of one of the city's cemeteries and will hold it in order that no one of the ex-service men who did his share in the army or navy during the World war need sleep in a potter's field. When the Legion's work on its acquired plot is complete, Racine will have a miniature Arlington. The plot is circular and will be fittingly arranged in order that it may look as much as possible like the national cemetery in Virginia.

The Legion men have authorized the expenditure of $3,923.50 for the land. A steel mast, from which will fly the Stars and Stripes is one of the first things the organization will buy. Already Racine's 55 ex-service men are buried in two of its cemeteries. An effort is to be made to have as many of these as possible transferred to the new plot. Room for the burial of more than 300 veterans is being allowed for.

The next session of the Wisconsin legislature will be asked to raise the amount which the state allows for the burial of a war veteran. At present this amount is but $50, but it is hoped that this will be increased to $75 or $100.

Carrying On With the American Legion

It rained $500 for the Legion in Toronto recently. Insurance was taken out against more than 10-100 of an inch on a celebration day. The precipitation was 14-100.

Bronze doors will lead into the $250,000 memorial hall to be erected at Centralia, Wash., in honor of the four American Legion men who were killed by I. W. W. members in that city.

John and Alfred Hess and William Hagerty spent Sunday with friends in DuBois.

ANOTHER PLAY

LEADERS' SESSION

The fifth session of the Play Leaders' Institute being conducted by Clearfield Community Service will be held in the gymnasium of the High School at 7:30 promptly this evening Tuesday.

For those who have been most regular in attendance and who definitely plan to use the material they have secured at the sessions in the social life of the organizations to which they belong or on the playgrounds this summer, Miss Haire, the worker from national Community Service who is giving the course, has prepared a sixteen page mimeograph description of the games that have been used. This is preceded by a bibliography and some general suggestions to a game leader. For the mimeographing of this work thanks and credit are due to the following members of Miss Verlie High's class in typewriting and stenography in the High School: Miss Valeria, Balum, Miss Mary Boal, Miss Jane Grott, James Walsh and Thomas Shillen.

Mrs. H. B. Logan, of Walnut St., was called to Akron, Ohio, this morning on account of the death of her daughter-in-law Mrs. Reimond Logan.

Pirate Bees.
Bandit wild bees invade the tame hives near Grays Harbor, Wash., and steal and carry away the honey to their hives in the forest. More than one-third of the domestic honey gathered in this district has been stolen by the robber bees. The wild bees make their homes in hollow trunks and cedar trees, where several swarms work on a community basis.

Keeping Customer's Cigars.
A New York cigar shop has a series of humidifier compartments built into one wall. When a customer buys a box of cigars he is given the only key to one of these compartments, and may keep his cigars in it as long as they last.

Concerning Floor Coverings.
Floors are not only part of the background of the room along with the walls and ceiling, but they also form the foundation of the whole decorative scheme. Therefore, the floor coverings must necessarily be darker in color than the walls, otherwise they will spoil the entire proportion of the room by the effect of instability produced.

Actonism.
A little while ago, in response to an expressed need for some word which would indicate optimism plus action, the word "actonism" was coined. An actonist is an optimist who makes the most of every opportunity to apply his optimism and who does not confine his efforts to breezy sayings.—Journal of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry.

Finch a Musician.
The purple finch, a bird of glistening, deep carmine plumage, is an excellent musician, singing a rich, rolling, well-sustained song, says the American Forestry Magazine. This species has a decided fondness for buds of various kinds, and may often be seen eating the catkins of the poplars.

Devilfish Protected by Nature.
The smaller devilfish swim in shoals, and as they move they change their color according to their surroundings. They have another device which enables them to escape when hard pressed. This is the ink bag, by means of which they can pour out a dark fluid which makes the sea around them thick and cloudy.

Consistency.
Betty—"The idea of Bob whistling to attract my attention; I felt insulted and wouldn't notice him—Hark! What's that? It's Jack knocking his auto horn for me to come out. Excuse me, dear, I must go."

Daily Thought.
Truly there is a tide in the affairs of men; but there is no Gulf Stream setting forever in one direction.—Lowell.

THE ROVER

By George Randolph Chesler

HURDY GURDY FINANCE

"It shouldn't be a difficult problem," mused Ames, whom a badly-managed business, of any sort, distressed immeasurably. "The first thing to do is to clean out these roustabouts."

Joe Wilks looked at him indignantly.

"I want a little piece of change, don't I?" he demanded. "They're the only customers I got."

"They're the only ones you will have, so long as they are here," Ames earnestly advised him. "A decent man spends more money than a tough. I'll bet the gentleman who was here today with that little girl would spend more money than ten of that gang you put out."

"Purloined a five-dollar William every time he came on the lot!" Ames was silent for a moment.

"Houston, you said his name was, I think," he suggested, and again he had that illusion of two round, blue spots before his eyes.

"Peter G. Houston," responded Joe Wilks, with a sigh. "He has the grandest little business there is; collecting interest on his money. Makes me sore to lose him! Why, he's brought that yellow-headed kid out here every Monday since she wore knee dresses, and she's about eighteen now. I'll last little Maudie all up not to come here any more. Why, say, I've picked her up out of the mud many a time. She'd always stop crying for a pretzel."

Ames suddenly recognized the identity of those round, blue spots before his eyes. They were the appealing stare of Maudie Houston.

"And she can't come here any more," he regretted.

Chapter II.

"I'm afraid I was short this afternoon," John Ames, drinking a lonesome after-dinner mint at the bar of his hotel, turned to find the beard he had seen.

"I didn't notice it," he pleasantly replied.

"It was too mad to be decent," Peter G. Houston went on.

"You were quite justified," said Ames. "Will you join me?"

"No, thanks," responded Houston. "I just happened to see you here, and remembered that I owed you an apology."

"You have an unusually tender conscience," laughed Ames. "I had a talk with the proprietor out there, after you left. He's not such a bad fellow."

"Any failure is a bad fellow," declared Houston. "I'll never go near Wilks park again."

"That's what Wilks predicted," returned Ames, with a musing smile. "He seemed more worried by the fact that your daughter would miss her weekly pleasure than by the loss of your patronage."

YOUR KODAK AND CIRCUS DAY

That's a great combination for the kodak enthusiast. There are opportunities galore for the "snapper" to get some real pictures.

And the joy of "you should have seen this on circus day" or "this was a funny thing" or anything else that meets your fancy will be doubly valuable if you have a pictorial history of it for the years to come.

We have all the popular size Eastman Kodaks and everything else that goes with the making of good pictures. Look over the window and see the great array.

Kurtz Stationery Store

Houston's eyes, which were blue, softened.

"He always made a fuss over my girl," he acknowledged, and then he smiled whimsically. "I don't know what I shall do now. The only thing I can see to do is to build a merry-go-round and a roller coaster on my back lot."

"It wouldn't be quite the same," Ames reminded him. "Why don't you help Wilks. Instead, to turn his park into a decent place. The town needs it."

"There are other things," acknowledged Houston, with a reminiscent smile. "I think I'd win the enthusiastic applause of my daughter, if I were to invest a few thousands in that place, and were able to pick its patronage by invitation."

Ames looked over into the glittering glassware.

"There is always at least one practical way to do anything you want. The only problem is find the right man."

"You talk like the right man," chuckled Houston. "Can't we induce you to rejuvenate Wilks park?"

"I'm afraid not," smiled Ames, a certain wistfulness coming into his eyes. "It isn't that the business doesn't attract me, because I have dabbled in all of them more or less; but I haven't seen anything in the town, as yet, which made me care to stay here."

"Lord, how free and footloose you sound!" envied Houston. "Do you mean to say that you go into business, any old kind at all, only when you happen to like the town you're in?"

"That's about it," mused Ames.

"Then stay here long enough to give us a good amusement park," urged Houston, half in jest and half in earnest. "Show me a convincing plan, and I'll back you, if you need backing."

Buzzards and hawks are big eaters. The former, of course, prefers carrion, while the hawk likes to kill and eat his own prey. BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquors. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

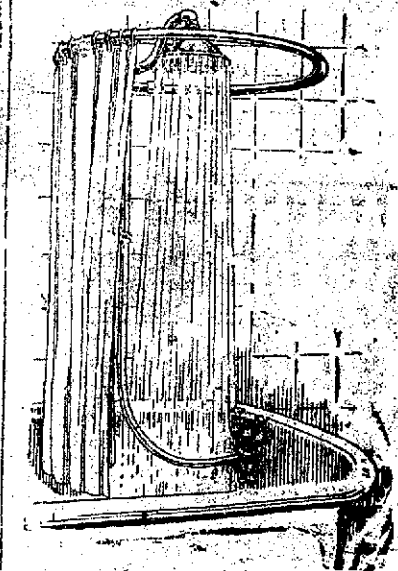

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lazy" and "heavy." They "clear" congested bowels and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

MEANEST THIEF SNITCHES FORD

Some evilly disposed son of a gun with little thought of the hereafter was mean enough to snitch John Duffon's Ford early last evening. The Ford was comfortably resting on Market Street last evening when alien hands seized hold of it and induced the lonesome Henry to rattle away with them.

No trace has yet been found of the fellow mean enough to steal a Ford, but Game Keeper Rearick who was in from Kennedy Park this morning, says a car wheezing like an asthmatic Ford, passed his place on the mountain about 11 o'clock last night and it's the belief of the police that this was the thief with John's Henry.

Ingenious Fraud.

A Paris mail order dealer objected to the raise in postal rates, so in sending out stamped envelopes for reply he covered the stamps with a thin layer of muck. When these came back, he sponged off the cancellation mark and used the stamps over again. Unfortunately for him, postal detectives discovered the ruse and he was fined 2,000 francs, after successfully working the scheme in more than 11,000 instances.

Ancient Arcadia.

In ancient Greece, the province of Arcadia was the central and most mountainous portion of the Peloponnesus, or southernmost end of the Grecian peninsula, peopled by peasants of a peaceful and distinctly lovable disposition. So famous did this province become for the simplicity and innocence of its inhabitants, that its name became a symbol of happiness and rural simplicity, later to be adopted by poets—among them Sir Philip Sidney—as the foundation for romances, in which this type of life played a leading part.

Widows Exercise Old Right.

Eight widows in the town of Auxerre, France, are to celebrate the five hundredth anniversary of an act of King Charles VII, decreeing that eight widows in that particular village shall always have rent free. A member of Charles' suite, who was wounded at the battle of Cravant, was nursed and cured by eight widows, and he provided for his nurses in his mansion in Auxerre. Later, Charles added the provision that the house should forever be the refuge of eight widows.

Golf.

Golf is a game of pool played in a row pasture instead of on a table. It consists in placing a white ball on an ant hill and then seeing how far one can knock said ball with a club. After having driven the ball a mile, or more or less, the next hour is spent in trying to find it. When found, it is dropped in a hole and then the performance is repeated 17 times with 17 or so more balls.—Standard Player Magazine.

Movements of the Tides.

The spring tides, or tides having the greatest range, occur near the times of new moon and full moon. The neap tides, or tides having the lowest range, occur near the times of first and last quarters of the moon. The highest of the spring tides is from one to two days after new or full moon. At this time, also, the low waters will be lower than usual.

Once there was a conductor who was not satisfied with his wages, and left. The next day, while looking for a job, he happened to step on the third rail. Did he get killed? No. He was a nonconductor.—Science and Invention Magazine.

SURE TO HELP SICK WOMEN

Mrs. Baker, So Much Benefited by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Anxious to Help Others

Lebanon, Indiana.—"I was completely run down from women's troubles and stomach trouble and for a long time was hardly able to do my work. I had some friends who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they told me about it. I know what it has done for me and I recommend it to others, as I am sure it will be a great help to all sick women. It is a wonderful medicine, and I give you permission to use my testimonial and my photograph."—Mrs. EMMA BAKER, 210 S. East St., Lebanon, Indiana.

These letters recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound ought to convince women of the great worth of this medicine in the treatment of ailments to which they are often subject. Mrs. Baker calls it "a wonderful medicine." If you are suffering from troubles women often have, or feel all run down, without any ambition or energy for your regular work, take Lydia E. Next they appeared in Egypt, according to traces found, and after this they became scattered until they were more or less common throughout the world.

CAUSE OF EXPLOSION IS UNKNOWN

Johnstown, Pa., May 2.—Three men were killed at 3:30
A. M. today when engine No. 7156 on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad blew up at Fairhope, Pa. The locomotive was blown to atoms. The dead are Timothy Conway, engineer, Cumberland, Md.; O. E. Newcomer, fireman, Cumberland, Md., and H. E. Parker, brakeman, Ursina, Pa. The engine, one of the largest on the system, was drawing a fast freight west-bound, Cumberland to Pittsburgh. The body of Conway was found on the east-bound track some distance from the scene. Newcomer's body was found in a coal car five cars in the rear while that of Parker was blown over an embankment and was not found until daylight this morning. The cause of the explosion is not known. Ten cars were wrecked and the track torn up for some distance, making it impossible to resume traffic until noon today.

SENATE REPUBLICANS AGREE UPON PLAN FOR SOLDIERS' BONUS, GIVEN TO HARDING

Washington, D. C., May 2.—Senate Republicans today agreed on a Senate Bonus Bill. They will submit the plan to President Harding late today. As tentatively formed the plan is a modification of the bill passed by the House. It provides for paying the bonus by means of twenty year certificates which are to have a loan value of fifty per cent of the face value immediately. In three years this value will increase to eighty per cent. In six years certificates are to increase twenty five per cent in value and at that time the loan value will be seventy-five per cent of the new face value. At the end of twenty years the holder of a certificate can take the money due to him either in cash or in annuities. The bill includes the vocational training and home and farm aid options of the bonus bill. It eliminates the reclamation plan.

quiry began investigation of the ened to take his case before the Gen-

MYSTERY MAN IN STUDENT MURDER TRIAL SUICIDES

New York, May 2.—Charles Schloss, "mystery man" in the murder of Elmer C. Drewes, Dartmouth College Freshman, who was slain nearly two years ago, died Saturday evening by his own hand.

Leaving behind no explanation of his act and giving no warning before hand, young Schloss, who was 21; trained a vial of carbolic acid in the home of his chum, David R. Este, an lied on the way to a hospital. He was a nephew of Daniel Guggenheim the banker.

The young man's tragic end recalled the mysterious slaying of his college chum, Drewes, which occurred in a lonely road near Philadelphia while Drewes was motoring back to college from Atlantic City. It developed that the slain youth had made a flying visit to New York where he collected $100 from Schloss Schloss offered to aid the authorities and established a satisfactory alibi later W. P. Brines was accused of the crime, tried and acquitted.

The murder of young Drewes has been relegated to the list of "unsolved mysteries."

Brines was recently killed in an automobile accident in California.

The Drewes case excited a great deal of interest locally from the fact that Brines was located in Clearfield for several weeks previous to the murder of Drewes and purchased the car in which Drewes' dead body was found from Roy Dougherty, of Turwensville.

UNDERWORLD DUEL CAUSES TWO DEATHS

Philadelphia, Pa., May 2.—Two men shot each other to death in a strange underworld duel here today.
Before dying in a local hospital one of the principals told the police "he stole my girl." A third man was shot by a patrolman as he fled over house-tops and two women were arrested when they were found crouching on one of the upper floors of the house where the duel took place. The police here are looking for six men and a woman who escaped in two 'touring cars which witnesses say was marked in front of the house just before the shooting. The men shot to death were John Baker, alias Ed (Buck) Bailey, and Harry Stinger.

MUST DRINK YOUR LIQUOR BEFORE COMING TO PENNA.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 2.—No person moving into Pennsylvania may legally bring his personal stock of liquor with him, Attorney General George E. Alter ruled in an opinion addressed to John T. Davis, State Prohibition Director, today. Alter declared that the Reed prohibition law, working in conjunction with state laws, made it illegal to bring liquor into the state for beverage purposes.

Gertrude Hanna, above, was found dead in a vacant personage at Hopetown, Ill. John C.
Wyman, farmer, told authorities investigating the mystery of her death that he had been the girl's sweetheart. She was about to become a mother.

SLICK FORGER GETS MONEY AT DUBOIS

DuBois was visited by another of these personified check forgers on Saturday night and the party succeeded in passing a number of "phony" pay slips. The fact that the forged checks were in circulation was not discovered until Monday morning when the merchants went to the banks to make deposits. Then they started to come in and kept appearing during the day.

It is stated that from ten to fifteen worthless checks were passed during the Saturday night rush. All of the checks were made out to Charles Patton and signed E. S.
Mims. The amount ranged from ten to eighteen dollars and in most instances the passer of the checks made a small purchase receiving good money in exchange.

The checks were not a smooth piece of work and were at once detected when presented to the banks for deposit. Local officers were at once notified of the checks and an investigation started. Owing to the number of stores visited it was not difficult to secure a fairly good description of the man. He was apparently a stranger in the city and it is probable that he kept on traveling the following day, possibly the same night.

The swindler used counter checks
in all instances and everyone of them was numbered 47.

The following description of the man was furnished by Officer Jeffrey: Age 35, weighs about 185, smooth face, light complexion, wore blue suit, American. At some of the places he wore a cap, at others, a hat.

PENNSY NIGHT WITH COMMERCIALITES FULL OF INTEREST

Prominent Officials Of Pennsylvania Ry. Tell
Local Business Men Of
Their Troubles.

TALK LOCAL ISSUES

About 80 members and guests of the Clearfield Commercial Club ate one of Jordan's good dinners last evening and heard railroad matters discussed by Mr. Robert C. Wright of Philadelphia, General Traffic Manager of the Pennsylvania System.

Mr. Wright's talk was most instructive and he gave his listeners some new thoughts on the railroad situation and presented the subject from a different angle than the average person views it.

Mr. Wright in his capacity handles 1-9 of the freight business of the United States and 1-6 of the passenger business and the Club was fortunate in having an opportunity to hear a man of his caliber. After his talk he invited questions from the members and this brought forth additional information.

Mr. J. K. Johnson, of Tyrone, Division Superintendent and Mr. M. L.
MacQuinn of Altoona, Division
Freight Agent, also spoke very interestingly.

Miss Celeste Bogner accompanied by Miss Margaret Shillenn favored the Club with three delightful musical solos and the Keystone Quartette accompanied by Miss Dorothy Woodward, entertained in their usual excellent fashion.

The Club found time to transact some business, among which was the increase of the membership from its former limit of 75 to a limit of 100 and immediately added eleven new members from their waiting list as follows: J. Woodward Olcott, Reuben F. Neveling, R. R. Silverman, Dr.
G. B. Yoaney, W. C. Seifert, Lawrence E. Sault, Ernest L. Peterson, Don Gingery, Ralph Jordan, Walter
Legal, H. Clair Fleming.

Mr. F. L. Ward, who was a former member has returned to the city and the Club accepted him with open arms and reinstated Mr. Ward to his former membership.

A motion was carried unanimously to endorse the Salvation Army drive for funds.

It was also unanimously voted to accept an invitation from the Rotary Club for a joint meeting at an early date to hear Hon. Edward Rogers, Director of Training Schools for Community Service.

A communication from the Osceola Merchants' Association regarding closing one afternoon each week during the Summer months was referred to a committee composed of Julian Chase, Paul Flaharty and Wm. Leitz-inger, with power to act.

The balloting for nomination of Directors went off quietly with no bloodshed. The sixteen names receiving the highest votes and thereby becoming nominees for election at the next meeting May 15, are as follows:

Wm. Bigler, C. F. Bloom, J. M.
Chase, Harry Evans, P. T. Flaharty,
I. P. Franz, E. T. Kelley, J. M.
Mitchell, Jr., A. M. Pearce, P. B.
Reed, W. P. Sheeder, W. W. Smith, G.
A. Stewart, Dr. L. F. Stewart, B. L.
Wallace, S. L. Warner.

The sepiak at the next meeting of the Club on May 15th, will be Mr.
Gregory C. Kelly, of Philadelphia,
General Manager of the Pennsylvania Compensation Rating and Inspection Bureau and President Warner states that Mr. Kelly is the highest authority in the State of Pennsylvania in his particular line.

After the meeting the Traffic Committee or the Club met with the Pennsylvania officials with reference to local traffic matters and at ten o'clock Mr. Wright and his party left by special train.

2 YEARS TAX EXONERATIONS $1,227.83

The regular semi-monthly meeting of Borough Council attracted an extra large number of taxpayers
the Council chamber for the purpose of registering kicks or asking that necessary improvements be made in their sections of town.

President of Council Rosser was in the chair and the following members of Council were present to participate in the deliberations: Messrs
Bashan, Jay, Adams, Ellis, Bloom, Poorman, Gulich, Rollin and Gilliland. Burgess Kittelberger was also present.

Ten Arrests For April
The Burgess reported ten arrests for April, with the collection of $63 in fines and $10 in licenses for the month.

Borough Solicitor Urey reported collections of $145.85 and presented check for amount.

Too Much Dust on Front Street
A delegation consisting of A.
Wright Bigler, J. Fred Weaver and R. C. Wright were present and complained about the dust clouds on Front street with every passing vehicle. The Highway Department was asked to give them relief by a plentiful supply of oil.

Live of West Front Street Up Again
W. A. Hagerly, Esq., was present
as the representative of Hiram Schiefer and presented a map of West Front street showing the lines of same and the encroachments of the properties on both sides of the street. He asked that the difficulty be settled by deciding upon a fifty foot street. Messrs J. E. Gearhart Irvin Rhinehart and Ed Jury property owners on the west side of the street, were also present to insist upon the street being maintained as a 60-foot street as the original plan provided. This dispute has been pending for more than a year, an injunction having been secured by Council to prevent Mr. Schiefer from completing a building which projected out onto the street line some seven feet. After some discussion the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That inasmuch as the original plan of the Bigler Addition to West Clearfield borough shows West Front street to be 60 feet in width from Nichols street south to Clearfield street and said street always having been opened to that width, the Council goes upon record herewith as desiring to have this street maintained at 60 feet in width between these points, as originally planned, and asked that the injunction proceedings now pending between the borough and the trespassing property owner be carried through and the matter finally determined by the Court.

Want Retaining Wall Built
F. B. Reed and W. A. Wallace representing the Clearfield Cemetery Company, were present and asked Council to join and bear half the expense of putting a retaining wall up Cemetery Hill from East Market street, stating that such a wall would prevent a great deal of gravel and dirt washing down the hill onto the streets and into the borough sewers after every heavy rain. After considerable discussion a committee consisting of Messrs Gulich, Bloom and Adams was named to meet the Cemetery Co., representatives regarding a plan and the cost of such improvement and report back to Council.

Other Requests Made
Warren Flegal asked again that surface water in the alley along side

his property on Dorey street be taken care of, while Joseph Daugherty entered complaint regarding the sewer manhole in front of his property on Pine street. Both complaints were referred to Highway Department for solution.

To Attend Borough Convention
The Burgess, President of Council, Borough Engineer, Chairman of the Sewer Committee and Secretary of Council were named to represent Clearfield at the Convention of Pennsylvania Boroughs to be held at Stroudsburg, June 20, 21 and 22.

Independent Oil Co., Liberal
A letter was read from Mgr. Samuels of the Independent Oil Company in which that concern agreed to furnish all the oil and gas used by the borough fire apparatus free of charge for one year from this date. The

Will Purchase Truck

For Street Work

way Department recommended the purchase of a truck for street work and the recommendation was unanimously adopted the Secretary being directed to advertise for bids for suitable truck.

Recommended Fire Apparatus
Chairman Ellis of the Public Property Committee presented the recommendation of his committee for either a 400 or 600 gallon triple combination motor driven pumper apparatus for the Elk Hose Company.

The recommendation caused a great deal of discussion and it was finally decided to ask for bids for some new fire apparatus and the Secretary was directed to prepare an advertisement asking for bids on a combination chemical and hose wagon and a triple combination motor driven pumper.

EVERY CLUE FAILS IN HOOPESTON CASE

Danville, Ill., May 2.—The only clue which officials believed would lead to the solution of the mysterious murder of Gertrude Hanna failed today. An itinerant doctor had told sheriff Charles Knox that six weeks ago he was approached by a man representing himself as John Hanna who requested him to perform an illegal operation on his daughter Gertrude. The doctor was brought face to face with Hanna, father of the murdered girl, and John Wyman,
her confessed betrayer here today.
He said neither Hanna nor Wyman made the proposal.

State College Musical Club Gives Concert

The Music Section of the State College Woman's Club gave a splendid program to the members and guests of the Clearfield Musical Club in the College of Music auditorium last evening. This concert was in exchange for the one members of the Clearfield Musical Club gave at State College in February.

Mrs. H. H. Havner, president, was leader of the ten piece orchestra and pianist. The soloists, all of whom performed with the entire orchestra accompanying were: Mrs. Fritz Holben, Mrs. John Taylor, formerly of Clearfield, and Mr. Ben Witkoff.

The whole program was characterized by the difficulty of the numbers played, which did not, however, reduce the finish and ease of the performances. Such numbers as Mozart's Overture to "The Marriage of Figaro" and the First Movement of Beethoven's Fourth Symphony, when so well done, are, in themselves, high compliments to the musicians.

DUBOIS MILK MEN CUT PRICE TO TEN CENTS PER QUART

Milk at 10 cents a quart is made available for the consumers of this city, effective today, by the decision of the executive committee of the DuBois Daily Milkmen's Cooperative Association reached late Saturday night. The price is the lowest that has existed in this city since the beginning of the war, eight years ago.

Announcement of the reduction of the milk price to 10 cents a quart is taken as one of the surest signs of the continued reduction of the cost of living as the selling price is reckoned on a scientific basis that has to do with production costs upon scores of farms in this community. These costs are closely tabulated and figured and the prices set accordingly, so that the producers can still work on a small margin of profit at the new selling price.

Hope For Wider Distribution.
For two years the price of milk has been slowly declining—the all-winter price having been 12 cents. At that figure milk from producing herds in all directions from this city was brought here and sold under cost and distributing conditions that enabled the DuBois Cooperative Milkmen's Association to show a surplus when the situation was canvassed at the meeting of the executive committee of the association on Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gregory and family spent the week end with friends in Clearfield.

Circus Will Be Here On Thursday, May 4th, Sure

There is something about the knowledge that a circus is coming that gives everybody, be it man, woman or child, a "thrill" of a sort not produced by anything else. Lovers of ordinary amusements who accept the coming and going of attractions as a matter of routine, experience a "different" glow when they see the billboards, the pictures and newspaper advertisements.

Particularly is this true when the circus is one of the magnitude of the Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace circus. The very name is synonymous with massedon-tented delight. It "grabs" and when the big parade sweeps down the streets, there is no forgetting it. It's just as characteristically American as the great Yankee game of baseball. Red-blooded—both of them. That is why, when the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus comes to Clearfield, Thursday May 4th, for two performances, it is safe to say that a majority of the citizens will "answer the call". Those who know about the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus do not need to be told. To those who do not, well it's the Hagenbeck-Wallace show which, in the amusement world, has a meaning equal to that of Edison in the realm of invention.

Noisefess Bird

The plumage of the owl is so enveloped in fine and downy filaments; that its flight is noiseless, says the American Forestry Magazine. It takes its victims unawares and therefore is able to overcome animals much larger and heavier than itself.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Postmaster General Work has announced that 600 ex-service men have been commissioned as postmasters since President Harding issued his executive order May 10, 1921. This order authorizes the Civil Service Commission and postal authorities to give a 5 per cent preference to ex-service men taking examinations for the eligible list of appointments as postmasters. This number is considered rather remarkable by the Postoffice Department inasmuch as none of them had any previous post office experience and a large number of them had no business experience whatever.

According to "Battling Bob" La-follette on the floor of the U. S. Senate the other day, a friend of Attorney General Daugherty, who had first hand knowledge of administrative action before same was made known officially tipped off Wall street speculators that the Government had leased the Wyoming naval oil reserve to a private oil company, allowing these speculators to clean up $30,000,000 in three days time.

In 1919 the Government spent nine teen billions. In 1920 it spent seven and one-half billions. In 1921 the bill was six and one half billions. In 1922 we shall spend about four and a half billions. The budget of 1923, eliminating post office costs, which come back largely in receipts, will be a trifle over three billions.

There are thirteen million grown-up unmarried men in the good old U. S. A. There are also eight and one-half million unattached females. Why don't they get together?

Reports for March filed by 123 of the 201 Class 1 railroads with the Interstate Commerce Commission show that their net operating income in that month was $61,678,000, compared with $18,563,800 for the same railroads in March, 1921. In order to realize a return of 8 per cent on the tentative valuation of the 201 railroads, the remaining 78 Class 1 railroads must bring the net operating income on the 201 to $85,895,700. The Class 1 roads have an approximate mileage of 150,000.

The Association of Railway Executives has compiled figures showing in detail the financial operating conditions reported by the 123 railroads. Tentative reports for the 123 give the operating revenues at $343,667,000 an increase of 5.8 per cent more than those for the same roads in March, 1921, while their operating expenses amounted to $261,466,500, a decrease of 8.9 per cent, compared with March last year.

Sixty-eight roads in the Eastern district had operating revenues totaling $214,523,000 an increase of 10 1/2 per cent more than March 1921. Their operating expenses were $160,451,900 or 7 per cent under those for March last year. The net operating income for the 68 roads, which so far have reported, amounted to $42,512,200, compared with $10,971,222 in March 1921.

WAS REAL WARFARE HARDING OFFERS TO DOWN IN WEST VA. SOLVE COAL PROBLEM

Charlestown, W. Va., May 2.—A veritable picture of the battle of "Bar Mountain" between coal miners and deputies in the march on Logan County last summer was created today by W. B. LePage, mine superintendent, testifying for the state in the treason trials here. Airplanes, machine guns and gas bombs were used. LePage described how he led women and children from the battle area while airplanes circled overhead dropping gas bombs. One bomb dropped near him, he said but none of his party suffered injury. The defense then took up the financing of the miners' march. Otis Bickens, Secretary of local No. 44918 of the United Mine Workers, identified an order for $1,695 supposed to have been used for food.

Washington, D. C., May 2.—President Harding believes he has found a solution of the trouble in the coal industry. The President has outlined his plan to several members of Congress. It is based it was learned, on the fundamental principle that the coal industry must be made less seasonal. Production must go ahead at a steady rate throughout the year. Distribution from the mines must also be kept at an even flow. To accomplish this, the Government must direct that the surplus coal must be stored in the centers of population to await the demands of winter.

PLOT TO SMUGGLE CHINESE LOCATED

Sarcastic Summing Up.
A client of Sydney Bartlett's wanted William M. Everts retained as associate. Bartlett assented, but somewhat ungraciously. The client, after the argument of the case, asked Bartlett how Everts spoke. "Oh, very pleasantly," said Bartlett. "There was a vein of ratiocination running through all that verbiage—attenuated at times, it is true, but never wholly lost."

The First and Seventh Day.
The fourth commandment of the Jewish law distinctly commands that the seventh day of the week shall be a day of rest, on which no work of any kind shall be done. The early Christians observed the seventh day for a long time, because it was the law of the land. The fact that Jesus arose from the dead on the first day of the week led them to meet again on that day, and it gradually became a custom for them to meet on the first day of the week for Christian Fellowship.

A Little Imitator.
A tiny girl of five taken to a vaudeville show was much impressed with the ventriloquist. That evening while saying her prayers she asked God to look after her brothers and sisters and to make her a good girl—then after a brief pause she was heard to say, sotto voce: "All right!"

Rest the Eyes.
It's a funny thing, but people never give their eyes a thought unless they have trouble with them. A person couldn't run or walk all day long without giving his legs a rest. A woman couldn't sew all day long without stopping for a few moments to rest her hands. And still people will work their eyes all day without closing them for an instant.

Ancient Shaving Implement.
According to Herodotus, the Egyptians shaved continually and only let the hair and beard grow when they were in mourning. The barber of the ancient Egyptians was known as the hui. He employed various instruments. A razor sometimes in the shape of a small, short hatcher with a recurved handle and other instruments shaped like a knife were most generally used.

True Sayings.
"The love that causes two hearts to beat as one does not guarantee a continuous performance," wrote the late Edgar Saltus. He also made this true observation: "Life is packed with delights—which the majority of us never enjoy. The world is full of charming people—whom few of us ever meet."

The Rattlesnake.
One of Bosworth's young sprouts was coming home about 12 o'clock the other night on the south road, and just as he got even with the graveyard the engine went dead. But he said he got so scared when he saw where he was that he shook the car so badly that the durned old flyver thought the motor was running and came clear to town before it discovered his mistake.—Science and Invention.

WHY SOUSA JOINED LEGION

The Noted Bandmaster Says He Thinks It Is a Rattling Good Organization.

"I joined the Legion because I had a right to, being in the navy, and I did so because I think it is a rattling good organization," says John Phillip Sousa, bandmaster extraordinary and leader of the mammoth naval band at the Great Lakes, naval training station during the war.

The Legion and its activities are being spread into all parts of the world by the band leader's men. Thirty-two of the master musicians who make up the Sousa organization are ex-service men, and nearly all are affiliated with the Legion. They come from every part of the country and saw service in every branch of this country's military organization during the war.

When Sousa took hold of the Great Lakes band it was a group of sailors, whose right to play under him could have come only with their enlisting with the crowd that "took 'em over." What he did with this group of musical talent became known the country over. What they learned under Sousa couldn't have been learned anywhere else, and the finer points of the musician's art are being shown to the hundreds of Legion posts whose personnel is made up of one or more of the gobs who made up the largest service band of the many brought into being during the war.

NAME DESTROYER FOR FRUIT

Highest Honors Paid One of Pershing's Men Who Went to Death In War.

It is seldom that one of Uncle Sam's sea fighters is named for an enlisted man of the navy or marine corps. This has been done in the case of Corp. John Pruitt, one of Pershing's hundreds of heroes, who died from wounds while fighting Germans. Honors had been heaped on Corporal Pruitt before he met death, but the naming of a "destroyer for him" didn't take place until long afterward.

Mr. and Mrs. George Pruitt of Phoenix, Ariz., have just received from the Italian government a citation and the Italian war cross. Croce all glories in recognition of their son's valor nearly four years ago. The citation told of young Pruitt's single-handed battle against two machine gun crews, capturing both, killing two of the enemy and taking 40 prisoners.

Under age and therefore ineligible for the first draft, Pruitt volunteered for service with the marines less than three weeks after war was declared. He was in France in January, 1918, and served as a "Devil Dog" until his death. His body was brought back to this country and buried with all the honors that are a hero's in the National cemetery at Arlington.

LEGION HAS CEMETERY PLOT

Racine (Wis.) Organization Will See That No Ex-Service Man Sleeps in Potter's Field.

The American Legion at Racine, Wis., has taken over a part of one of the city's cemeteries and will hold it in order that no one of the ex-service men who did his share in the army or navy during the World war need sleep in a potter's field. When the Legion's work on its acquired plot is complete, Racine will have a miniature Arlington. The plot is circular and will be fittingly arranged in order that it may look as much as possible like the national cemetery in Virginia.

The Legion men have authorized the expenditure of $5,993.50 for the land. A steel mast, from which will fly the Stars and Stripes is one of the first things the organization will buy. Already Racine's 55 ex-service men are buried in two of its cemeteries. An effort is to be made to have as many of these as possible transferred to the new plot. Room for the burial of more than 300 veterans is being allowed for.

The next session of the Wisconsin legislature will be asked to raise the amount which the state allows for the burial of a war veteran. At present this amount is but $50, but it is hoped that this will be increased to $75 or $100.

Carrying On With the American Legion

It rained $500 for the Legion in Toronto recently. Insurance was taken out against more than 10-100 of an inch on a celebration day. The precipitation was 14-100.

Bronze doors will lead into the $250,000 memorial hall to be erected at Centralia, Wash., in honor of the four American Legion men who were killed by I. W. W. members in that city.

John and Alfred Hess and William Hagerty spent Sunday with friends in DuBois.

ANOTHER PLAY

LEADERS' SESSION

The fifth session of the Play Leaders' Institute being conducted by Clearfield Community Service will be held in the gymnasium of the High School at 7:30 promptly this evening Tuesday.

For those who have been most regular in attendance and who definitely plan to use the material they have secured at the sessions in the social life of the organizations to which they belong or on the playgrounds this summer, Miss Haire, the worker from national Community Service who is giving the course, has prepared a sixteen page mimeograph description of the games that have been used. This is preceded by a bibliography and some general suggestions to a game leader. For the mimeographing of this work thanks and credit are due to the following members of Miss Verlie High's class in typewriting and stenography in the High School: Miss Valeria, Balum, Miss Mary Boal, Miss Jane Grott, James Walsh and Thomas Shillen.

Mrs. H. B. Logan, of Walnut St., was called to Akron, Ohio, this morning on account of the death of her daughter-in-law Mrs. Reimond Logan.

Pirate Bees.
Bandit wild bees invade the tame hives near Grays Harbor, Wash., and steal and carry away the honey to their hives in the forest. More than one-third of the domestic honey gathered in this district has been stolen by the robber bees. The wild bees make their homes in hollow trunks and cedar trees, where several swarms work on a community basis.

Keeping Customer's Cigars.
A New York cigar shop has a series of humidifier compartments built into one wall. When a customer buys a box of cigars he is given the only key to one of these compartments, and may keep his cigars in it as long as they last.

Concerning Floor Coverings.
Floors are not only part of the background of the room along with the walls and ceiling, but they also form the foundation of the whole decorative scheme. Therefore, the floor coverings must necessarily be darker in color than the walls, otherwise they will spoil the entire proportion of the room by the effect of instability produced.

Actonism.
A little while ago, in response to an expressed need for some word which would indicate optimism plus action, the word "actonism" was coined. An actonist is an optimist who makes the most of every opportunity to apply his optimism and who does not confine his efforts to breezy sayings.—Journal of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry.

Finch a Musician.
The purple finch, a bird of glistening, deep carmine plumage, is an excellent musician, singing a rich, rolling, well-sustained song, says the American Forestry Magazine. This species has a decided fondness for buds of various kinds, and may often be seen eating the catkins of the poplars.

Devilfish Protected by Nature.
The smaller devilfish swim in shoals, and as they move they change their color according to their surroundings. They have another device which enables them to escape when hard pressed. This is the ink bag, by means of which they can pour out a dark fluid which makes the sea around them thick and cloudy.

Consistency.
Betty—"The idea of Bob whistling to attract my attention; I felt insulted and wouldn't notice him—Hark! What's that? It's Jack honking his auto horn for me to come out. Excuse me, dear, I must go."

Daily Thought.
Truly there is a tide in the affairs of men; but there is no Gulf Stream setting forever in one direction.—Lowell.

THE ROVER

By George Randolph Chesler

HURDY GURDY FINANCE

"It shouldn't be a difficult problem," mused Ames, whom a badly-managed business, of any sort, distressed immeasurably. "The first thing to do is to clean out these roustabouts."

Joe Wilks looked at him indignantly.

"I want a little piece of change, don't I?" he demanded. "They're the only customers I got."

"They're the only ones you will have, so long as they are here," Ames earnestly advised him. "A decent man spends more money than a tough. I'll bet the gentleman who was here today with that little girl would spend more money than ten of that gang you put out."

"Puritized a five-dollar William every time he came on the lot!" Ames was silent for a moment.

"Houston, you said his name was, I think," he suggested, and again he had that illusion of two round, blue spots before his eyes.

"Peter G. Houston," responded Joe Wilks, with a sigh. "He has the grandest little business there is; collecting interest on his money. Makes me sore to lose him! Why, he's brought that yellow-headed kid out here every Monday since she wore knee dresses, and she's about eighteen now. It'll last little Maudie all up not to come here any more. Why, say, I've picked her up out of the mud many a time. She'd always stop crying for a pretzel."

Ames suddenly recognized the identity of those round, blue spots before his eyes. They were the appealing stare of Maudie Houston.

"And she can't come here any more," he regretted.

Chapter II.

"I'm afraid I was short this afternoon," John Ames, drinking a lonesome after-dinner mint at the bar of his hotel, turned to find the beard he had seen.

"I didn't notice it," he pleasantly replied.

"It was too mad to be decent," Peter G. Houston went on.

"You were quite justified," said Ames. "Will you join me?"

"No, thanks," responded Houston. "I just happened to see you here, and remembered that I owed you an apology."

"You have an unusually tender conscience," laughed Ames. "I had a talk with the proprietor out there, after you left. He's not such a bad fellow."

"Any failure is a bad fellow," declared Houston. "I'll never go near Wilks park again."

"That's what Wilks predicted," returned Ames, with a musing smile. "He seemed more worried by the fact that your daughter would miss her weekly pleasure than by the loss of your patronage."

YOUR KODAK AND CIRCUS DAY

That's a great combination for the kodak enthusiast. There are opportunities galore for the "snapper" to get some real pictures.

And the joy of "you should have seen this on circus day" or "this was a funny thing" or anything else that meets your fancy will be doubly valuable if you have a pictorial history of it for the years to come.

We have all the popular size Eastman Kodaks and everything else that goes with the making of good pictures. Look over the window and see the great array.

Kurtz Stationery Store

Houston's eyes, which were blue, softened.

"He always made a fuss over my girl," he acknowledged, and then he smiled whimsically. "I don't know what I shall do now. The only thing I can see to do is to build a merry-go-round and a roller coaster on my back lot."

"It wouldn't be quite the same," Ames reminded him. "Why don't you help Wilks. Instead, to turn his park into a decent place. The town needs it."

"There are other things," acknowledged Houston, with a reminiscent smile. "I think I'd win the enthusiastic applause of my daughter, if I were to invest a few thousands in that place, and were able to pick its patronage by invitation."

Ames looked over into the glittering glassware.

"There is always at least one practical way to do anything you want. The only problem is find the right man."

"You talk like the right man," chuckled Houston. "Can't we induce you to rejuvenate Wilks park?"

"I'm afraid not," smiled Ames, a certain wistfulness coming into his eyes. "It isn't that the business doesn't attract me, because I have dabbled in all of them more or less; but I haven't seen anything in the town, as yet, which made me care to stay here."

"Lord, how free and footloose you sound!" envied Houston. "Do you mean to say that you go into business, any old kind at all, only when you happen to like the town you're in?"

"That's about it," mused Ames.

"Then stay here long enough to give us a good amusement park," urged Houston, half in jest and half in earnest. "Show me a convincing plan, and I'll back you, if you need backing."

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquors. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

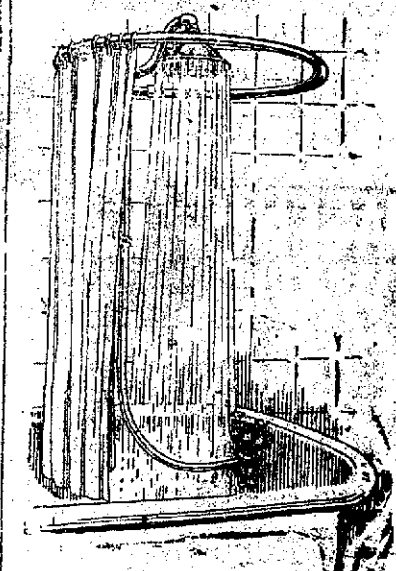

Headaches, "dullness" and that lary feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lumpy" and "heavy." They "clear" congested bowels and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

MEANEST THIEF SNITCHES FORD

Some evilly disposed son of a gun with little thought of the hereafter was mean enough to snitch John Duffon's Ford early last evening. The Ford was comfortably resting on Market Street last evening when alien hands seized hold of it and induced the lonesome Henry to rattle away with them.

No trace has yet been found of the fellow mean enough to steal a Ford, but Game Keeper Rearick who was in from Kennedy Park this morning, says a car wheezing like an asthmatic Ford, passed his place on the mountain about 11 o'clock last night and it's the belief of the police that this was the thief with John's Henry.

Ingenious Fraud.

A Paris mail order dealer objected to the raise in postal rates, so in sending out stamped envelopes for reply he covered the stamps with a thin layer of muck. When these came back, he sponged off the cancellation mark and used the stamps over again. Unfortunately for him, postal detectives discovered the ruse and he was fined 2,000 francs, after successfully working the scheme in more than 11,000 instances.

Ancient Arcadia.

In ancient Greece, the province of Arcadia was the central and most mountainous portion of the Peloponnesus, or southernmost end of the Grecian peninsula, peopled by peasants of a peaceful and distinctly lovable disposition. So famous did this province become for the simplicity and innocence of its inhabitants, that its name became a symbol of happiness and rural simplicity, later to be adopted by poets—among them Sir Philip Sidney—as the foundation for romances, in which this type of life played a leading part.

Widows Exercise Old Right.

Later, Charles added the provision that the house should forever be the refuge of eight widows.

Golf is a game of pool played in a row pasture instead of on a table. It consists in placing a white ball on an ant hill and then seeing how far one can knock said ball with a club. When found, it is dropped in a hole and then the performance is repeated 17 times with 17 or so more balls.—Standard Player Magazine.

The spring tides, or tides having the greatest range, occur near the times of new moon and full moon. At this time, also, the low waters will be lower than usual.

SURE TO HELP SICK WOMEN

Mrs. Baker, So Much Benefited by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Anxious to Help Others

Lebanon, Indiana.—"I was completely run down from women's troubles and stomach trouble and for a long time was hardly able to do my work. I had some friends who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they told me about it. I know what it has done for me and I recommend it to others, as I am sure it will be a great help to all sick women. It is a wonderful medicine, and I give you permission to use my testimonial and my photograph."—Mrs. EMMA BAKER, 210 S. East St., Lebanon, Indiana.

These letters recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound ought to convince women of the great worth of this medicine in the treatment of ailments to which they are often subject. Mrs. Baker calls it "a wonderful medicine." If you are suffering from troubles women often have, or feel all run down, without any ambition or energy for your regular work, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a natural restorative and should help you as it has Mrs. Baker and many, many other women.

Chinese Basis of Currency.

The Chinese use an ingot in the form of a woman's shoe as a basis of currency, which is determined by the weight and fineness of silver. It is expressed in so many "taels of sycee." The purity and weight of the shoes are certified by a Chinese official called "Klung Ku."—Boot and Shoe Recorder.

Repulsive Birds.

The greatest bird gourmand is the vulture of southeast Europe. Seven vultures can strip the carcass of a horse in half an hour. After such a meal they can fly only a few yards. They stand with puffed-out bodies, drooping wings, and blood-shot eyes, uttering hideous cries.

Lines to Be Remembered.

Whatever the number of a man's friends, there will be times in his life when he has one too few; but if he has only one enemy he is lucky indeed if he has not one too many.—Lord Lytton.

As in Football.

Life is full of ups and downs and it takes a wise fellow to make his downs help him towards his goal.—Boston Transcript.

The Fertile Aphis.
The report of the Smithsonian Institution, just issued, gives an account of the hop aphid, in which the amazing fecundity of these minute insects is shown. According to the author, the mother aphid produces 13 generations in a year. At each generation contains an average of 100 individuals, it was revealed that her progeny—barring destruction from attacks of enemies and other natural causes—would number well into ten sextillion aphids annually.—Scientific American.

"Biddy" Has Long Pedigree.
The chicken, common barnyard fowl, has a pedigree that has been traced back to 700 B. C., when chickens were fluttering about homes in southern Asia. Dr. Clark Wissler, noted anthropologist, says. Within a comparatively short time, considering lack of transportation and the great distance, chickens appeared in Africa, Doctor Wissler says. Next they appeared in Egypt, according to traces found, and after this they became scattered until they were more or less common throughout the world.
